1. Content of the web site

Panavia assumes no liability for the topicality, correctness, completeness or quality of the provided information. Liability claims against Panavia, which refer to damages of material or immaterial nature, caused by the use or non-use of the presented information or through the use of faulty and incomplete information are fundamentally excluded as long as no intentional or grossly negligence fault is evident on the part of Panavia.

All offers are subject to change and non-binding. Panavia expressly reserves the right to change, supplement or delete parts of the pages or the entire offer without separate announcement, or to discontinue publication temporarily or for good.

2. References and links

Any liability for direct or indirect references to external web sites (“hyperlinks”) that lie beyond the responsibility of Panavia would only be assumed if Panavia had knowledge of the contents and it is technically possible and reasonable that the usage of the illegal contents could be prevented.

Panavia does not have any influence on the current and future presentation, contents and authorship of the linked sites. For this reason, Panavia herewith expressly distances itself from all contents of all linked pages that were changed after the activation of the link. This declaration applies to any and all links and references set within our own internet site as well as for links and references from third parties in guest books, discussion forums, lists of links and mailing lists and all other forms of databases which can be filled with content by external write access. For unlawful, faulty or incomplete contents and in particular for the damages which originate from the use or disuse of such information lies solely with the provider of the site to which a link has been made and not the party that simply refers to the according publication through links.
